Ages 11-18

Instructor: Richard Suarez

9:00am to 11:45am

This camp is a summer class where students will learn the basics of computer modeling and animation using the program 3ds Max. This program is the same computer software that is used in many of today's movies and video games. In most cases, this 3d animation software is not taught until a student is in college so this camp provides a unique opportunity for students to get ahead should they choose to pursue 3d animation or video game development as a career.

Show Choir Camp

$110.00

Rising 6th -8th graders

Instructors: Andrea Leluika & Shannon Wilson

9:00am to 11:30am

Do you love to sing and dance? Come to Show Choir camp to put these two talents together! Ms. Leluika will work with you on your vocals, both individually and as a group and Ms. Wilson will teach you the awesome dance steps to bring our music alive! We will finish the week with a performance for your friends and family to enjoy on Friday, June 16th at 10:00am!

Pine Studio

$200.00

Rising 7th - 12th graders

Instructor: Shannon Wilson

1:00pm to 4:00pm

Love all the projects on Pinterest, but don't have the time or supplies to make them? Want to buy cute, handcrafted things on Etsy, but don't want to break the bank? Make them yourself at camp! We will complete a variety of projects like custom wooden signs, wall hangings, self-designed wearables, and more! We will create these projects from scratch - you'll sand the wood, stain it, prep all surfaces, design your own stencils, etc.! Even if you aren't confident in your creative skills, this will be the perfect opportunity to explore and learn new techniques. You might just find out what you're great at! Pinterest fails? No way. You will leave with 3-5 completed, quality pieces you'll be proud to show others! We will have a gallery crawl on Friday from 3:30-4:00. Closer to camp, you will fill out a form to completely customize your camp experience. The cost of your camp includes: personalized project apron and all tools and supplies for your pieces.

College Application Essay Writing
$150.00 per session

Rising 11th and 12th graders

Instructor: Michael Piatak
9:30 to 11:30a OR 12:00 to 2:00p

Here is a chance to get a jumpstart on the college application process. The admissions offices of most colleges and universities maintain that the essay is the most important part of the application. This is not a series of lessons about essay writing; rather this is a workshop to actually write the essay. You will end the program with at least one fully polished essay to include as part of your application to college.

Middle School Social Skills and Pragmatic Language Skills Camp, "Hashtag: Social"

Instructor(s) There will be 2 instructors: A LKN Speech Language Pathologist and a second Speech Language Pathologist or student pursuing their degree in Speech Language Pathology. $ 300.00

Rising 6th - 8th graders

9:00am to 12:00pm

This has been another popular camp and is in its 3rd year by LKN Speech Language Pathology under the direction of Marianne Umphlett, Speech Language Pathologist and Owner. It has been developed for the middle school student who would benefit from development of social thinking, perspective taking, and improvement in their ability to relate to others. Social skills are being able to share space with others effectively and adapt to others in a variety of contexts. This is important for friendships, family relationships, academic success, work and life skills. We will be using the framework model by Michelle Garcia Winner and her book, Thinking About You Thinking About Me with group activities that are fun and engaging for this age group. Students will learn and practice within a structured and positive environment how to initiate conversations, listen with their facial expressions, understand social cues and abstract reasoning, understand the gestalt of situations, and use and understand humor effectively. This is a language-based camp to also promote expressive and receptive pragmatic language development specific to social skills. Cooperative and age appropriate games will be incorporated throughout the week. Typical students who would benefit from this group may or may not be on the autism spectrum and may or may not struggle academically. The activities are developmentally appropriate and tailored to the specific needs of the group that are both physical and mental, supervised and goal directed. By participating in this camp your child is receiving 15 hours of intensive, group and individual cognitive-language therapy. You will also have the opportunity to meet with the speech language pathologist to discuss your child's goals, progress, strengths, and weaknesses. Registration for this camp is through: LKN-SLP.com/summer-camps

9:00am to 12:00pm

This has been another popular camp and is in it's 3rd year by LKN Speech Language Pathology under the direction of Marianne Umphlett, Speech Language Pathologist and Owner. It has been developed for the middle school student who would benefit from development of social thinking, perspective taking, and improvement in their ability to relate to others. Social skills are being able to share space with others effectively and adapt to others in a variety of contexts. This is important for friendships, family relationships, academic success, work and life skills. We will be using the framework model by Michelle Garcia Winner and her book, Thinking About You Thinking About Me with group activities that are fun and engaging for this age group. Students will learn and practice within a structured and positive environment how to initiate conversations, listen with their facial expressions, understand social cues and abstract reasoning, understand the gestalt of situations, and use and understand humor effectively. This is a language-based camp to also promote expressive and receptive pragmatic language development specific to social skills. Cooperative and age appropriate games will be incorporated throughout the week. Typical students who would benefit from this group may or may not be on the autism spectrum and may or may not struggle academically. The activities are developmentally appropriate and tailored to the specific needs of the group that are both physical and mental, supervised and goal directed. By participating in this camp your child is receiving 15 hours of intensive, group and individual cognitive-language therapy. You will also have the opportunity to meet with the speech language pathologist to discuss your child's goals, progress, strengths, and weaknesses. Registration for this camp is through: LKN-SLP.com/summer-camps
